HISTORIC HARLEM BLOCKFRONT CAMPUS

Former School, Church, and Rectory at 2045 Madison Avenue

Denham Wolf Real Estate Services, as exclusive agent, is pleased to present a unique acquisition opportunity at 2045 Madison Avenue, a vacant three-building property that occupies an entire blockfront along one of New York City's most celebrated streets.

The campus is four short blocks from Harlem's "Main Street," a bustling stretch of 125th Street between Lexington Avenue and Frederick Douglass Boulevard, in the heart of Harlem. The buildings boast dramatic gothic revival-style architecture, designed by one of New York's most renowned architects, James Renwick Jr. (St. Patrick's Cathedral and the Smithsonian Institute). The three buildings present a prime opportunity for creative redevelopment including significant excess development rights, in an exciting Manhattan neighborhood experiencing substantial investment.

Property Description

The three adjoining, Landmarked buildings occupy the full blockfront between East 129th and East 130th Streets, and they are offered with vacant possession. The improvements, built between 1883 and 1904, comprise a five-story school, a dramatic former church, and an ornate four-story rectory. Each features a lower level, with the rectory also benefiting from a sub-basement. Currently, all three buildings are interconnected on the ground and lower levels.

Redevelopment Opportunity

Preliminary analysis indicates that a maximum FAR of 4.00 is permissible for residential or community facility for the majority of the two lots. We understand that there may be excess development rights. Buyers to perform their own due diligence.
